

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

These permissive bridledways and footpaths have been provided for members of the public to enjoy some extensive riding and walking opportunities across this large mid- Norfolk estate. Hares are frequently spotted dashing across the stubbles and the song of skylarks fills the air. Wildflowers can be found throughout the year in the bottoms of hedges and in many of the margins which in turn are visited by many butterflies and bees.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Countryside Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 31st July 2018.
